"WINTER WONDERS"

With France back to confinement, the International artist, Ann Dunbar, not only seeks solace and exercise at her local park, "the Parc de Lormoy", in Longpont Sur Orge, south of Paris, France, but it is a major source of inspiration for her art. She has lived in Longpont since 2001 and she has created many pieces of art that have travelled the globe. The tranquil park with meadows and lakes dotted with swans, ducks and moor hens is just the place to connect with nature in peace and calm. Her collection features the park during the winter months, when the crispy clearness of silhouetted trees, mirrored lakes, and the meadows take on a raw beauty as it metamorphoses into its winter clothes.

This collection will bring out those contemplative emotions and help reduce anxiety and stress, just like a walk in the park would do.

Ann Dunbar is based in south of Paris, France, is a quoted, international artists with thirty five years of experience as a professional artist. She is represented by several galleries in Italy, England and Australia and has exhibited in many countries like, Japan, China, Cambodia, Australia and U.A.E. Her work is in various art centres, museums and corporate collections in Europe and Asia.
